A burried examination was made by the section which developed the fact that the floor was on fire undersaals. The fact was communicated from one person to another until the whole congregation becames aware that the building was burning.

All rose to their feet and began preparations to leave. Several gentlemen in different parts of the room made themselves conspicuous by their gailant offerts towards reassuring that fasiles and children. forts towards reassuring the ladies and children. All of the means of exit were thrown open and in a few minutes every person had left the room, which was now thoroughly filled with smoke. There was not the least confusion, nor the slightest indication of a panic, and but few visible signs of excitement or fright. The good sense of all prevailed. Had it not, there would doubtless have been serious accidents, as so often happen when people become uncontroliable through fear and excitement. The headquarters of the Washington Fire Company are but a short distance away, and the fremen were on the scene even before the congregation had all left the building. The other companies quickly responded also. Hose was quickly attached to the neighboring plugs and had it not been that the fire was concealed from view and difficult to locate, the damage, would have been alight. It was thought that the blaze must be comparatively insignificant, and it was not wasted to lajure anything with water if it could possibly be prevented.

The smoke soon became so dense that it was almost impossible to remain inside and immense volumes rolled through every window. It was a and sight to the crowd which filled the streets outside, a great many of whom were members of the church. It was soon evident that the entire building was doomed unless prompt measures were taken. The firemen cut holes here and there in the floor, and as soon as the flames could be reached several streams of water were directed upon them and they were quickly subdued. The dire originated from some defection in the furnace pipe. Ten minutes before it became apparent some of the members were in the basemont and everything seemed all right. No careful estimate has as yet been made, but it is not thought that the damage will exceed $2,000 on both the building and furnishings. With the prospect before it of a Treasury dediciency brought about by the unprecedented appropriations of the Democratic Fifty-second House, the Democratic party feels about as happy as a man who cracks a safe thinking it filled with gold, and who finds upon finishing the job that the money isn't there. It is partlean disappointment and not solicitude for public affairs that fills the heart of the Democracy as it surveys the Treasury.

Tink history of the United States for the past thirty-two years is the history of the Esqublican party. When the Republican took charge of the National Government a third of a century ago the country had been brought to the varge of ruin by the practical application of the Democratic dogmas of Freetrads, cheap labor and cheap money. Besides the tremendous task of suppressing the nightlest rebellion of history, the Republican party found itself confronted with the necessity of reconstructing the financial and industrial interests of the Nation. All the world knows how successfully the work was accomplished. TRE Congress of the Salvation Army now assembled in New York City is, in many respects, a unique gathering. It is like none of the representative religious assemblages with which the metropolis is familiar. There is a directness of method, an intensity of purpose and a feror about the work of the Salvation Army which inspires profound respect among intelligent and unprejudiced people. All the peculiarities of this organization, now of world wide extent, are faithfully reflected in the congress holding its session there. Much may be said in criticism of the military parapherania, the cymbals, showy banners and street parades of the Army. But when all is taken into consideration, the great fact remains that these methods, objectionable as they may seem to many persons, have been so applied and so inspired with the sincerity and courage of their advocates that a wonderful work for the benefit of humanity has been accomplished.

In Rigiand the Army has gone into the sinus and made men and women out of wretched onicasis that the charcher failed interly to reach. It has become a vast reformative agency that has done more to solve the problem of Darkest London than all other agencies combined. #### The Quickest Way to Cure a Cold

The Gutcheet Way to Cure a Cold.

Do you wish to know the quickest way to cure a cold? We will tell you. To cure a cold quickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the system. The first symptoms of a cold is a dry, loud coughing and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by watery expectoration and the sneezing by a profuse watery discharge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin while coaling on the tongue. What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double doses every hour. That will greatly lessen the severity of the cold and in many cases will effectually counteract it and cure what would have been a severe cold within one or two days time. Try it and be convineed. Six Drunken Brothers Make a Mur derous Attack on the Conductor,

Etc., Takes Place—the Brakemen as Conductors thou and Brakemen as Conductors thou and Brakemen as Conductors thou and the Car.

Gallifolis, O., Nov. 23.—News of a bloody hattle on a north-bound Ohle river railroad train has just reached the city. As a result of the fight the conductor and brakemen are about and a conductor and brakemen are about and are more or less injured and the six drunken offenders, it is supposed, have injuries which are dangerons. Wednesday night aix brothers, Williams by name, boarded the train at Huntington in a maculin conductor when Glenwood was reached one of the men went into the ladio 'conch, began using profane language, flourished his revolver in a meaning manner and threatened to kill every one in the car. Conductors The superior with the car. Conductors The superior with a maculin conductor. This angewed his hrothers, and they rushed upon the conductor, at the same time drawing their pistols and lealures. His brakemen at once came so his adiabate, and the fight was precipitated. It is a superior with the conductor injuries. The newaboy, hearing the shots and screams, jumped from his seat in the ladied conch and rang the "riot bell." The train was stopped, and the engineer, and fireman diamounted from with huge clubs, where they beat the Williams boys until they were aimost lineared, and the floor of the molice was red with hiood. It is not known whether and the conductors of the conductors of the conductors of the williams boys were killed or not.
